Their mission is to empower them through education, make them self-reliant and provide them basic health care facilities. The Interpump Group Companies have helped Vanavasi Kalyana Charitable Trust in construction of a new building by demolishing an old building which had improper ventilation, unusable toilets and unavailability of skill development training facility. - Katkari Community Development Project

The Katkari Community has been recognized to be a particularly vulnerable tribal group of Maharashtra. Recognizing the need to help the tribe, Inoxpa India has made donation for the betterment of this community.

204 regular sessions over the period of 2 years were conducted for the children of this community. The main focus of these sessions was inculcating good hygiene habits, creating education awareness and developing studying skills among the children. Apart from this the children were taken for educational study tours to city parks, motivational camp for personality development, sports etc. was organized.

To understand the needs and problems of the community a study was conducted by Jnana Probodhini Foundation where the focus was on education, culture, health and financial literacy. A small get together was organized for the tribe to discuss their problems openly.

2 self-help groups were started for the women of the community.

Due to illiteracy and being far away in remote area, the Katkari community was unaware of the spread of Covid-19. An awareness drive for the same was organized.

Apart from this Aadhar Card drive and health checkups were also organized for the community.
